Declaration

Notice of Acceptance of Constitutions and of Oath of Office

Public notice for: Orlinda L. Naranjo, successor and assigns, d/b/a: Judge of Travis County Court at Law #2
and Court Clerks, sundry employees and agents, and all
a/k/a: PUBLIC SERVANTS — Travis County, Texas

Point of Law

All contracts commence with an offer and only become binding upon acceptance. See: Farnsworth on Contracts, ©2004 by E. Allan Farnsworth, Third Edition, Aspen Publishers, ISBN: 0-7355-4605-3 (Vol. 1) 3.3. Fair use transcript attached.

The peoples' contracts being the Constitutions of the United States of America and the/The State of Texas and the mandated oath of office of the above named PUBLIC SERVANTS, amounts to nothing more than an offer of an intention to act or refrain from acting in a specified way between the respective governments and the private American people and for other purposes and is binding to those who choose to be subject to it, i.e. PUBLIC SERVANTS.

Be it known by these presents that I, Pamela Marsha a competent natural woman of the genealogy of Knight, on the Land do hereby choose to honor your offer and accept the alleged constitutions of the United States and the/The State of Texas and the mandated Oath of Office of the above designated PUBLIC SERVANT, Orlinda L. Naranjo, doing business as "Judge of Travis County Court at Law #2" dated the 30th day of December, 2002, as found filed and recorded in the official public records of Travis county Texas, as instrument 2002251254, 12-30-2002, as well as and all previous ones, successor, assigns and deputies, assistants, employees, agents and all PUBLIC SERVANTS relating, as your open and binding offer of promise to form a firm and binding contract between the respective governments, their political instrumentalities and all the above so recognized PUBLIC SERVANTS and Me, Myself in My private capacity. Certified copy of instrument 2002251254 attached. By My acceptance

I reasonably require that in all of your actions as a PUBLIC SERVANT, as may, in any way, pertain to Me, you will faithfully perform all of your promises and stay in honor within the limitations of your ascribed constitutions, in your competency you will not create and proceed with any ex parte proceedings, unsubstantiated, unwarranted or unstated presumptions, quasi contracts or quasi in rem action, you will seek and act only the true facts and clearly tell the truth at all times, completely and unreserved at all times and respect and unconditionally protect My secured rights of life, personal liberty and private property and all rights antecedent thereto and therefrom at all times. Should this not be true then let the record be corrected or it will stand as truth.

3.3. Offer and Acceptance. The outward appearance of the agreement process, by which the parties satisfy the requirement of bargain imposed by the doctrine of consideration, varies widely according to the circumstances. It may, for example, involve face-to-face negotiations, an exchange of letters or facsimiles, a transaction between computers, or merely the perfunctory signing of a printed form supplied by the other party. Whatever the outward appearance, it is common to analyze the process in terms of two distinct steps: first, a manifestation of assent that is called an offer, made by one party (the offeror) to another (the offeree); and second, a manifestation of assent in response that is called an acceptance, made by the offeree to the offeror. Although courts apply this analysis on a case-by-case basis, depending on the circumstances, it gives a reassuring appearance of consistency.

Meaning of offer What is an "offer"? It can be defined as a manifestation to another of assent to enter into a contract if the other manifests assent in return by some action, often a promise but sometimes a performance. By making an offer, the offeror thus confers upon the offeree the power to create a contract. An offer is nearly always a promise and, in a sense, the action (promise or performance) on which the offeror conditions the promise is the "price" of its becoming enforceable. Offer, then, is the name given to a promise that is conditional on some action by the promisee if the legal effect of the promisee's taking that action is to make the promise enforceable. Empowerment of the offeree to make the offeror's promise enforceable is thus the essence of an offer.

Meaning of acceptance What is an "acceptance"? It can be defined as the action (promise or performance) by the offeree that creates a contract (i.e., makes the offeror's promise enforceable). Acceptance, then, is the name given to the offeree's action if the legal effect of that action is to make the offeror's promise enforceable.

Freedom to revoke offer Because of the requirement of mutuality of obligation, both parties are free to withdraw from negotiations until the moment when both are bound. This is the moment when the offeree accepts the offer. It therefore follows, as we shall see later in more detail, that the offeror is free to revoke the offer at any time before acceptance.
