

WE CAN'T PREDICT THE HEADLINES.
WE CAN BE READY FOR THEM.

FIND OUT HOW THE U.S. AIR FORCE IS DEFENDING AMERICA IN OUR CHANGING WORLD. LEARN HOW

- Good Morning America |
- World News |
- 20/20 |
- Primetime |
- Nightline |
- This Week |
- ABC News Now |
- i-Caught

Home |

News Brief |

THE BLOTTER

Home > Brian Ross & The Investigative Team > The Blotter

Editor: Simon Surowicz

 Subscribe to 'The Blotter'

BRIAN ROSS REPORTS

- White House Official Caught Plagiarizing
- U.S. Watch List at Record High, FBI Confirms
- In Baghdad, U.S. Embassy Project Faces New Scrutiny

Guilty Plea in NFL

« Public Broadcasting Activists Refute McCain Campaign 'Facts' on FCC Letters | Main | Aid Groups in Pakistan Pack Up After Execution-Style Attack »

ACLU: 900,000 Names on U.S. Terror Watch Lists

February 27, 2008 12:40 PM

 Email

 Print

 Share

Justin Rood Reports:

The FBI now keeps a list of over 900,000 names belonging to known or suspected terrorists, the American Civil Liberties Union said today.

If that number is accurate, it would be an all-time high, exponentially more than the 100,000 names on the list several years ago. But the number needs to be taken with a grain of salt: after all, the ACLU doesn't keep the list, the FBI does, and the bureau doesn't generally like to talk about it. (Indeed, the FBI has not yet responded to a request for comment for

ADVERTISEMENT

This building will be attacked
3,000,000 times today. Who's going to protect it?

AIR FORCE TECHNOLOGY DEFENDS AMERICA
IN A CHANGING WORLD. LEARN HOW

U.S. AIR FORCE
ABOVE ALL.

AIR | SPACE | CYBERSPACE

Dirty Bomb Hoax

Aid Groups in Pakistan
Pack Up After
Execution-Style Attack

ACLU: 900,000 Names
on U.S. Terror Watch
Lists

Public Broadcasting
Activists Refute
McCain Campaign

'Facts' on FCC Letters

Despite Charges,
Renzi Will Stay On

Out of the Mouths of Babes: Woman Steals
From Infant Nutrition

Program

Despite Downturn,
Lobbyists Raking In Record Revenues

Pressure Mounts on
Renzi to Resign

2nd McCain Official to Face Federal Charges

Ameriquest Owner to Quit Post as Ambassador to the Netherlands

Cop Shooter 'Loco
Larry' Slain in Jail

Refco Exec Admits to Role in $2.4 Billion

this post.)

But if the ACLU's figure isn't accurate, it's also unlikely to be off by that much. Last September, the ACLU notes, the Department of Justice's Inspector General reported the FBI watch list was at 700,000 names, and growing at 20,000 names per month.

The ACLU says they "extrapolated" from those figures to determine the list's current size. ACLU's Barry Steinhardt added that the group had spoken privately with people familiar with the watch list, who told them the 900,000 figure was not outlandish.

In the past, The FBI has told ABC News that the size of its watch list is classified. Despite that, both the bureau and the DoJ Inspector General have published the total figure in unclassified reports.

There's no doubt the FBI's list is growing: just last June, ABC News reported it was at 509,000 names, based on information in an unclassified FBI budget document.

But strangely, the list may be growing not because of swelling legions of foreign terrorists. Instead, it appears the FBI may be adding tens of thousands of names belonging to U.S. persons it suspects of being domestic terrorists -- people who have no known ties to international terrorist organizations.

A separate entity, the National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC), keeps a list of all names believed to belong to terrorists linked to international terror groups. That list, which was at 100,000 names in 2003, grew to 465,000 names by last June -- but since then has grown only modestly, according

Catching up With the Duke Cunningham Scandal

Source: Former Refco CEO Will Plead Guilty

Lawsuit Against 'American Gangster' Dismissed

New Book Shows Symbols From a Secret World

Saudi Blogger: 'This Country Needs Controversy'

Shocked - Shocked to Find Earmarking in This Congress!

Toxic Gas Purchase Raises Cloud of Doubt

Once Hidden, Iraq Rape Numbers Emerging

LUV 2 INFECT U

Halliburton Gang-Rape Victim To Testify on Hill Today

2007 World Photo of the Year: 'Exhaustion of a Man...of a Nation'

Reports: Bribed Ex-Lawmaker to Leave to NCTC spokesman Carl Kropf. Today, Kropf said that list stands at roughly 500,000 names. (Unlike the FBI, the NCTC does not maintain that the size of its watch list is classified information.)

The FBI takes that list and adds to it a new collection of names which belong to U.S. persons believed to be domestic terrorists: people who have links to terrorism but not to any international group.

Last June, the NCTC was responsible for putting 465,000 names on the watch list, and the FBI appeared to add an additional 44,000. By September, extrapolating from the DoJ Inspector General's report, the FBI's contribution appears to have grown to somewhere north of 200,000 names.

Today – if the ACLU is to be believed – the FBI's contribution may be as high as 417,000 names. Which would raise a new question: Where are so many domestic terrorists coming from? Or do they simply use more aliases than foreign terrorists?

Update: The FBI responded late Wednesday afternoon.

Spokesman Chad Kolton did not dispute the ACLU's figure, but noted that the watch list contains names, aliases and name variations for individuals. The number of people on the watch list, he said, was around 300,000, and only 5 percent are U.S. persons. Kolton noted that the list is "regularly reviewed for accuracy." Last year the bureau removed 100,000 records "related to people cleared of any nexus with terrorism," Kolton said.

Prison Soon

Masons Have National Treasures Too

The Other Mob Case

In U.S. Military, Sex Crimes on the Rise?

TOP BLOTTER CATEGORIES

- Abramoff Lobbying Scandal
- American Al Qaeda
- Avian Flu
- Beirut Hospital Out of Gas
- CIA
- CIA Secret Prisons
- D.C. Madam Affair
- FBI
- Federal Air Marshal Service
- Homeland Security
- Hurricane Katrina
- Mark Foley Internet Scandal
- Millionaire Sex Scandal
- Nigerian E-mail Scams
- Norman Hsu, Clinton Fundraiser
- NSA: Wiretapping
- Osama bin Laden
- Payola
- Pharmacy Investigation

TO BLOTTER HOMEPAGE

February 27, 2008 in FBI | Permalink | User Comments \(32\)

User Comments

The number of people in the list is sickening, I would love to see if Obama's name is on that list. I bet their would be an outcry if this was so.

Posted by: David | Feb 27, 2008 1:04:10 PM

Simple math suggests that if this is true, the FBI believes one in every three hundred people in the US is a terrorist. That would mean that practically every single person in this country knows at least one terrorist. I don't buy it. Either the ACLU is exaggerating or the FBI is completely nuts. Unfortunately for all of us, either could be true and neither would be very comforting.

Posted by: Jamie B. | Feb 27, 2008 1:04:17 PM

So what's the problem?

Posted by: Zinglesloff | Feb 27, 2008 1:12:22 PM

Jeez, if they'd just list all the names in the Republican party, or at least the entire Bush white house admin and all his former employees that have left under duress, or resigned, and the major GOP supporters... we'd have all the domestic

- Speaker of the House Dennis Hastert
- Terror
- U.K. Airline Terror Plot
- U.K. Bombing Attempts
- Wen Ho Lee
- William Jefferson
- Zargawi

terrorists in one group.

Posted by: FormerRepub | Feb 27, 2008 1:26:39 PM

"Which would raise a new question: Where are so many domestic terrorists coming from?"

Or maybe, just maybe, some on the list aren't actually terrorists. It is a list of "known or suspected terrorists", and the FBI has been casting a wide net.

Posted by: Roger Green | Feb 27, 2008 2:21:38 PM

MONTHLY ARCHIVES

- February 2008
- January 2008
- December 2007
- November 2007
- October 2007
- September 2007
- August 2007
- July 2007
- June 2007
- May 2007

It'd be interesting to know what qualifies an individual to be added to this list. Some democrats in congress want people named on the list to lose their 2nd amendment rights, yet for all we know they've never done anything wrong.

For all we know, it may just take a disagreement with a local cop or other official to get your name on the 'terror watch list,' and I don't believe there's any way to appeal and get your name removed. This could simply be a list of 'enemies of the state' and I'd be willing to bet it's full of names who've never actually done anything wrong.

We need to know how a person qualifies for the list, how a person can find out if they're on it and a process for contesting their place on the list. At least for US citizens with no link to terrorist organizations. This is dangerous stuff right here!

Posted by: squeenter squillo | Feb 27, 2008 2:35:57 PM

Who should be surprised? The ACLU has been ANTI-AMERICAN for years. Their names should be on the list and erase the names they have put down...for they have been ANTI-CONSTITUTION and ANTI-EVERYTHING AMERICA HAS STOOD FOR SINCE THE BEGINNING....HUMM...PERHAPS THEY ARE 'THOSE' WHO WANT TO BE 'MASTERS OF THE UNIVERSE'. They don't realize that "...He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision. Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure."

Psalms 2: 4-5

Posted by: Of the Founding Fathers | Feb 27, 2008 11:07:47 PM

these DC criminals are afraid of the people.

Posted by: Morse | Feb 28, 2008 9:13:15 PM

It is more likely that the increase in the numbers of "watched" persons on the 'list' are due to an expanded definition of terror suspects. The list probably now contains the names of persons that have spoken out against the Bush administration and persons in the peace movement. Also it probably contains the names of felons of any description (esp. those convicted of drug and morality type crimes which this regime would consider possible potential terrorists due to the intense resentment at being handled so brutally in the politically motivated justice system.) Empires have always had to look over their shoulders like any schoolyard bully would.

Posted by: Michael | Feb 28, 2008 10:10:38 PM

Anti-American ACLU??

"Stop throwing the constitution in my face, it's just a g###d###n piece of paper." -Dictator Bush 12:9-05

Stop throwing the Bible in our faces, it's just just a g###d###n book.

Posted by: Jacob | Feb 28, 2008 10:48:47 PM

So 15,000 Americans are terrrrrrrists?

Really? Is Bush at the top of the list?

Posted by: Smash the State | Feb 29, 2008 12:37:06 AM

The list is probably being expanded to include those who have criticized our out of control federal government, those who have visited alternative news sites on the Internet, both left and right, and those who frequent websites critical of the war, Bush, the impending police state, anything that challenges elite agendas and power. "Terrorism" is just a ruse to control the American people.

Posted by: Basil | Feb 29, 2008 2:13:20 AM

Rather or not the ACLU's number sounds outrageous, the fact is, the Department of Justice's Inspector General reported the FBI watch list was at 700,000 names, and growing at 20,000 names per month and that alone should be alarming people. That means sooner or later everyone will have their name on the list. The problems created from being added to the list from getting on a plane and/or somewhere else in their daily lives is going to be made difficult and they/you will not know why.

Our country and/or any other country should not be afraid of making that list should be made public so as to quickly correct the situation.

Someone from the F.B.I. can say they correct this list all the time, but again how do you know for sure and once on the list how do you know how soon you come off of it after a mistake.

This is insanity. If we ever had that large of a problem with terrorist to begin with, our borders and everything else would have been cut off and our troops would be protecting us. Nothing like living in fear to make sure you are willing to hand over your freedoms.

Posted by: Winkers | Feb 29, 2008 9:46:43 AM

It's important to get the news out to the people, but what can we DO about it? We all know the problem, where is the solution?

Posted by: Kelly | Feb 29, 2008 3:02:35 PM

Gee. Where are they going to get all that money to watch 900,000 people? Maybe they should create more prisons.

Did I say that? How Anti-American of me.

Posted by: Kini Cosma | Feb 29, 2008 4:49:18 PM

*I'm scared of all the domestic terrorists,Do the FEMA camps have enough room for them all? What if some get past the screeners or escape? Who is going to protect us? Tell them I am not a thought criminal. I trust my government,I trust my government,I trust my government.
Don't let them take me away.NOOOOooo BAM klink.*

Posted by: nobody worth noticing | Mar 1, 2008 1:30:41 AM

FASCISM

Posted by: Hal Lepino | Mar 1, 2008 1:40:40 AM

What has happened to this country since Bush was INSTALLED as president? We soon won't have a country left! I have never seen police meaner or more brutal, I have never seen a time since McCarthy when anyone with a different take on things was automatically a communist! No wonder several million Americans have left!

Posted by: Cat Callahan | Mar 1, 2008 2:04:02 AM

I would like to see every member of the Council on Foreign Relations on U.S. Terror Watch Lists.

Posted by: Pancho | Mar 1, 2008 2:10:41 AM

...And several years from now, the list should grow to about a billion at this rate. Right?

Posted by: Scott | Mar 1, 2008 2:59:34 AM

Leave me alone I'm too freaking lazy to do stuff!

Posted by: roger | Mar 1, 2008 3:25:24 AM

You have to view the list from the perspective of the criminals in the Whitehouse, the CFR and the AIPAC controlled Congress. Any true patriot who upholds the Constitution is a threat. Any free citizen that can still think and knows his rights is a threat. Any U.S. citizen who is aware of the fascist takeover of our government and who wants to "throw off such government" as the Declaration of Independence requires we do, is a threat and by their skewed definition, a terrorist. THEY are for whom the newly built concentration camps are waiting.

Bush said it, "You are either for us, [the global fascist coup] or you are against us." It's all in your perspective. He didn't bother to tell the American people that we no longer have a country.

Posted by: Fledge | Mar 1, 2008 4:39:40 AM

Ladies and Gentlemen--introducing the NEW Soviet Union!

And remember, torture WILL be used to extract "confessions." Oh wait--there's a difference--in the USSR everyone was guaranteed a job!

Posted by: petunia | Mar 1, 2008 5:13:05 AM

Papers please... did you know your name is on the no access list? Why are you trying to drive into this sector? Are you a terrorist?

Step out of zee car pleaz.

WAKE UP AMERICA!!! The deomrats won't save you and neither will the reichpubilcans!

Posted by: Tim Goodness | Mar 1, 2008 6:37:10 AM

Obtain and publish the names on the list.

Posted by: EARTHMAN | Mar 1, 2008 1:26:09 PM

Of course, this begs the question: what is the criteria for being put on the list? Would calling the president an idiot get you there? Not believing the governments lies? Hell, why bother casting a wide net? Just consider every breathing American citizen a potential terrorist? It would be much easier, and it would make just as much sense. It appears that the truth is the government has declared war on their own citizens.

Posted by: Mike Adkison | Mar 1, 2008 1:45:12 PM

Terrorist = Farmers, self-sufficient Americans, teachers, parents with good advise, neighbors who warn of money meltdowns, interested news seekers, consumers who sound off about poisons in their groceries in public, people with scary opinions about whatever our government is up to, anyone with an opinion against war...

Posted by: kk | Mar 1, 2008 3:08:28 PM

And I hope they get the complete population of the U.S. - esp. those who walk and drive holding cell phones - those indifferent to the goings on.

For 2 reasons:

-what are the scum ptb going to do with us all?

-I'm looking forward to the squawks of protests and indignation to the general populace only THEN, will the sheeple do something!

Posted by: vera | Mar 1, 2008 3:59:58 PM

Zinglesloff.... Why does it have to be the GOP I say all politicians need to be on that list! And don't forget all members of the Congress and Senate.

And don't forget the United Nations etc. etc. etc.

Posted by: Charles Perry | Mar 1, 2008 11:56:22 PM

Why do people write trash like this if the FBI says it is classified then any figure given out by any agency is more than likely a miss leading out fraudulent figure and then to just extrapolate and come up with what you call not outlandish. lol it is preposterous that this crap is even taken serious

Posted by: David | Mar 2, 2008 2:24:13 AM

*with 12 million dead Iraqi how many were terrorists 0000 how many were murdered in cold blood how many raped
how many were tortured just how many people that did this to this third world country that was disarmed are on that list surely they must be all on it for they are the only terrorists that are ever likely to be in America.
Americans sleep walking into their worse nightmare.*

Posted by: David | Mar 2, 2008 2:28:48 AM

*This is a "political enemies list" very much like ole Tricky Dicky had in the 60's. Like Georgie Porgie said, "Either you're with me or against me." Now, I realize he said "with us or against us" but it was clear to me what he meant. This is only going to get worse. The roundup is coming soon.
Hahahaha
Wally*

Posted by: wally | Mar 2, 2008 11:05:40 AM

Post a comment

.....
Email Address:

URL:

Remember personal info?

Comments:

Feedback|Wireless|E-mails & News Alerts|Message Boards|RSS Headlines|Podcasts|ABC News Store

Contact Us|ABC.com|Site Map|Advertising Info|Terms of Use|Privacy Policy|Your California Privacy Rights

External links are provided for reference purposes. ABC News is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

Copyright © 2008 ABCNews Internet Ventures