Taxing Your Beliefs

Hello, I'm Gordon Phillips, founder of INFORM AMERICA! This Free Report is titled "Taxing Your Beliefs" and contains powerful, life-changing information that will profoundly affect the wallets of every working American—information that has been well-concealed until now, and which I have no doubt the government wishes you never heard.

Why? Because it has to do with the federal income tax you've been paying all these years and the shocking truth about who really owes it.

All your life, you've been taught about the honesty and value of our tax system, including income taxes. You've been told that every patriotic American must pay his "fair share" of the services we each consume, such as maintaining the roads, providing for Social Security benefits and funding civil defense, to name just a few. That paying your "fair share" is as much a part of the American fabric as baseball and apple pie.

Even though for generations we've grumbled that the amount we pay is too high, surely if our very obligation to pay were in doubt, this would have been questioned and publicly debated decades ago. Well, I hope you're sitting down, because the truths I am about to reveal hold powerful consequences for the future well-being of Americans everywhere.

I must warn you that you're going to resist believing what I'm about to tell you. That's entirely understandable. No American wants to feel deceived by his own government. I didn't either. But I can assure you that many others have already confirmed the following information for themselves and found it to be true. You won't have to take my word for it, though, because I'm going to tell you exactly how—and where—you can confirm this for yourself. So, with my sincere apologies if what you're about to hear disturbs you, here are the plain facts.

After a decade-long, exhaustive investigation, a blue-ribbon team of C.P.A.'s, attorneys and tax researchers nationwide has now confirmed beyond all doubt that the Internal Revenue Service—the same agency that will audit you over a twenty dollar deduction—is knowingly bilking American taxpayers out of tens of billions of dollars each year with no constitutional or legal authority whatsoever.

FREE BOOK OFFER! — As my way of saying "thank you" for your decision to read this Free Report, I'd like to extend to you this limited time opportunity to receive a copy of my underground best-selling book, "Losing Your Illusions", for a FREE, 30-day in-home review, with no obligation to purchase and absolutely "no strings attached". Please see my personal message at the end of this Free Report for this limited time offering from INFORM AMERICA!

This highly qualified team of tax investigators has confirmed that the IRS is not only deliberately misapplying the written tax laws—and I'll give you some examples shortly—it's running what can only be called a massive confidence game of the most colossal proportions. And since this could only happen with the knowledge and approval of top officials of the Treasury Department and key members of Congress, it can only mean that the government is engaged in a cover-up at the highest levels.

We've seen many of these cover-ups before and this one is no different. The truth is that every American since 1913 has been defrauded in what may be the largest swindle in recorded history. Now, as I said earlier, this sounds totally unbelievable. Actually, unbelievable isn't even the word for it. Impossible is more like it. That's what I first thought, too, when I was first exposed to this information. I remember saying: "This is impossible! Frankly, it's ridiculous! Besides, we would have been told this long ago in the newspapers and on television. How could my parents, and their parents before them possibly not have known this?"

However, I grudgingly agreed to listen with an open mind and judge the facts for myself. And I'm simply asking you to do the same. Maintain your objectivity and try to absorb and analyze what I'm about to share with you. I encourage you to then conduct your own research to confirm these facts for yourself. I provide all the necessary legal cites here on my web site.

You'll never hear any of this mentioned on television or read about it in the newspapers—and I'll explain why not in a few minutes—, which is why I'm currently touring the country doing live seminars and speaking on talk radio shows. I'll tell you at the end of this side how anyone interesting in exposing this information can assist me in these efforts. During my live presentations, I use dozens of overhead transparencies to show a stunned audience of working Americans, business owners and tax preparers what the tax laws actually say, straight from the tax code and the regulations.

I also reveal little-known government documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act, many of which the IRS no doubt wishes you never saw. I can guarantee you this: those who see this material will never view their government in the same light again. So, if you're up for the challenge, let's get started.

If you've ever seen the movie "The Sting", you may remember how unwitting victims were lured into a scam. Long after the trap had been sprung, they still didn't quite understand what had happened to them. This is exactly the case with the IRS. Perhaps you, too, have been taken in by this ruse.

The scheme begins by leading you to believe that you have a legal requirement to have and use a Social Security Number. Believing in this, you apply for a number or your parents apply for one for you. You then enter that number on your very first tax return and file it, perhaps right out of high school or college, believing once again that filing is required by law. Without realizing the legal significance of your actions, you just voluntarily created the presumption of being a "taxpayer".

But are you? You see, the one-word legal term "taxpayer"—with no space between "tax" and "payer"— is defined at section 7701(a)(14) of the Internal Revenue Code as "any person subject to any internal revenue tax".

But who is made subject? Only those whom Congress has made liable to pay a particular tax—in this case, the "income" tax. So who then is made liable? Search the entire code and the only liability statute you'll find for "income" tax is section 1461 which applies solely to the withholding of tax from foreigners, not from citizens. Yet approximately one-hundred million working adult Americans pay billions of dollars annually in income taxes, or have them withheld from their paychecks, with absolutely no legal requirement anyone can locate!

You can confirm this for yourself—and take your tax preparer with you! Go to a local law library, purchase a CD-ROM from the Government Printing Office or conduct your own research on the Internet. Look in Title 26 of the United States Code—which is the Internal Revenue Code—in subtitle A, chapters 1 through 6, under "income tax". You won't find a single statute authorizing the withholding of income tax from citizens living and working within the 50 States of the Union. It simply does not exist.

Seen in this light, these taxes are really just voluntary donations to the government, and very generous ones at that! To be fair, the IRS has always referred to this phenomenon as "voluntary compliance" and they're absolutely correct.

I stated earlier that by entering a Social Security Number on your first tax return and filing it, you created the legal presumption of being a lifetime "taxpayer". But who is actually required by law to have a Social Security Number in the first place? If you search for any statue or regulation that requires a citizen to obtain and use a Social Security Number, again, you will not find one. It simply does not exist.

Because you are repeatedly asked for your number when you attempt to open a bank account, buy or sell property, invest or even rent a video today, most Americans assume there must be a legal requirement to have one. But look up section 405 of Title 42 and you'll discover that Social Security Numbers are never assigned automatically to citizens, only to foreigners upon their admission into the United States. Citizens who want a number must apply for one.

However, there can be no legal requirement to apply, since submitting any application for anything is always by definition a voluntary act. Most people believe that newborns automatically receive a Social Security Number while still in the hospital. But look closer and you'll discover that parents unwittingly sign release paperwork authorizing hospital administrators to apply for a number for their newborn. If the parents legally refuse to sign—and they can—no application process is initiated and no number is assigned.

I cover this in detail in my recently released cassette, "How To Have A Free Baby". To get a copy, just contact our office. As for the requirement to file a tax return, if you do the research, you'll discover that it applies only to citizens with qualified foreign sources of income. I illustrate this in graphic detail in my book, "Losing Your Illusions".

Once a citizen does file, however, regardless of whether or not he actually owed the tax by law in the first place, he will be presumed by the IRS to have a requirement to continue filing. Without realizing it, by his own voluntary act he has transformed himself into a "taxpayer", and that's exactly how the IRS then treats him.

It may surprise you to learn that many Americans who never volunteered to apply for a Social Security Number or to file a tax return, never hear from the IRS their entire lives. I know several such people personally. So why doesn't the IRS run Public Service Announcements on TV explaining the truth about all this? Because it wouldn't be good for business. After all, does the IRS have a vested interest in explaining the truth, or in getting the revenue? Remember, it's your money going into their pockets!

And what about the media? Why haven't you seen this on the evening news or read about it in your local newspaper? Well, have you ever stopped to consider exactly who it is who controls the major television networks and the leading newswire services in this country? Have you ever noticed that, night after night, the major news networks all cover not only the exact same stories on the evening news, but almost always in the exact same order, even leading off with the same story? Is this just a giant coincidence?

This is not "conspiracy theory", mind you. Personally, I don't involve myself in theories. I just stick to the facts—documented facts, readily verifiable by anyone willing to do the research. Simply identify the powerful individuals who sit as directors on the boards of the major television networks, the leading news magazines and the big city newspapers, then trace their long-standing connections to private membership organizations such as the Council On Foreign Relations, or "CFR" for short.

You mean you've never heard of the CFR? Of course not; that's because there's an absolute news blackout. You will never hear Peter Jennings, Tom Brokaw or Dan Rather so much as breathe mention of the CFR, even though they've all attended its meetings or frequented its headquarters on 68th Street in downtown Manhattan. And what is the purpose of this private organization, anyway?

Here's what Dan Smoot, a former member of the FBI Headquarters staff in Washington and personal advisor to J. Edgar Hoover once stated about the Council On Foreign Relations: "The ultimate aim of the CFR is to create a one-world socialist system and make the U.S. an official part of it...". Now, that doesn't sound too good, does it? In fact, it sounds downright subversive.

Here's what congressman John Rarick once warned: "The CFR, dedicated to one-world government...should be familiar to every American concerned with...preserving and defending the U.S. Constitution...". Now, is this an organization you'd be proud to belong to? No? Well then it might interest you to know that just about every single President, Vice President, Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense and other cabinet head since Dwight Eisenhower has been a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

That's right. And, so have most of the top leaders of the Fortune 500 and the entire mainstream media, too. Even Walter Cronkite. Again, could this all be some amazing coincidence? What do you think? I cover this in detail in "Losing Your Illusions", but you'll never read about it in the Wall Street Journal, or in the New York Times which calls itself the "newspaper of record".

You see, the Council On Foreign Relations is where the real power is wielded, secretly, and from behind the scenes—where the important "deals" are made before taking them to the American people for a so-called "choice"—making much of our electoral process a total farce. This shadow-government syndicate has the power to filter and manipulate virtually all of the news and information that over 260 million Americans receive every day. So does it have a vested interest in telling the public the truth, or in perpetuating its own power and control, all funded with tax-exempt dollars?

By the way, is your family or small business tax-exempt? Which brings us back to our original question: who really does owe the income tax? The answer is that the framers of the Constitution were wise men, indeed. They severely limited the powers of the federal government. To keep government small, they provided that it's day-to-day operations would be funded by excise taxes in the form of import tariffs collected from foreigners who would pay their "fair share" for the privilege of selling into our vast marketplace. This would not only protect American jobs and industry, it would leave every citizen free of all internal taxation.

And when you read the Internal Revenue Code, you discover that you actually are! So what happened to change this? Nothing. The simple truth is that the written law is being deliberately ignored by the IRS, all in the name of tax revenues to keep the welfare state humming and expanding. Remember, when you feed government, it grows!

Over the course of just 50 years, thanks to the generous tax contributions of generations of trusted Americans, the federal government has ballooned into a debt-ridden colossus, even though virtually every federal agency—even the Department of Education—is absolutely and totally unconstitutional! That's right. There is no authority under the Constitution—the supreme law of the land—for the government to even be in the education business. None whatsoever. In fact, there's no authority for most federal agencies to even exist!

So ask yourself this: under these circumstances, will you continue to volunteer to fund what amounts to a legal fiction? At this point you might well ask, "OK, Phillips, if what you say is true, then why have I heard of famous people going to jail for not paying income tax?" The answer, quite frankly, is because they probably received poor legal advice. It may astonish you to learn that well-prepared individuals are winning in court when they stay on-point with the written law, and receive a fair trial.

I can point out several instances in recent years alone where this is true. Just contact our office for the names of the acquitted defendants and their contact information. You don't hear about these victories in the media, though, because they're not published in on-line legal research services, so most lawyers don't know these acquittals even exist. Most defendants in tax trials are convicted by juries of their peers due to lawyers less interested in the written law than in being sanctioned by the judge for raising politically incorrect arguments in the courtroom.

Another reason is that today's law school graduates are conditioned to rely on so-called "case law" and rarely bother consulting—or reading—the actual, written law itself. This practice has distorted the original intent of our laws which were written to be perfectly clear in their application to citizens. And they are! All you have to do is read them!

Another reason is that jury members are usually ignorant as to the fact that they can totally and legally ignore the instructions given to them by the trial judge and can instead consider the facts, the circumstances and the law, and acquit based on their conscience. Jury rights are being actively tampered with, and our courtrooms are filled with ignorant jurors who don't realize the real power they actually have.

And finally, there are many freedom-loving and patriotic Americans who keep losing in court because they rely on false arguments based on mistaken theories and interpretations, and not on the written law itself. Now, I should state for the record that I am not a lawyer, accountant or tax preparer. For that reason, I never give legal or tax advice of any kind. If an individual should find himself in need of such advice, he should seek the services of competent, licensed tax professionals—assuming of course that any can be found! However, no license is required for me simply to show another citizen what the law actually says.

It is also not my intent to promote the breaking of any law, nor to recommend any particular course of action, including the nonfiling of returns or the nonpayment of taxes. Each American must decide for himself whether or not there exists a legal requirement to file a return or to pay a tax, and, if the law so requires, to obey the law. The question is, what do the tax laws actually say? Seeing them for the first time leaves most folks with their mouths open.

To tell you how I got started in this, in 1991 a friend introduced me to books, tapes and videos about what he called the "constitutional revival movement" that frankly knocked my socks off! I remember thinking "Where has this information been all my life?" It was as if I were emerging from a cave. I was thunderstruck to learn about the relationship between my God-given rights and the proper role of government. For the first time, I began studying America's great foundational documents.

The more I read, the more I came to realize how truly ignorant I had been about the one great topic that should matter most to every American—what it takes to live as a real American. Indeed, what American liberty is truly all about. Thomas Jefferson wrote about "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness", which, in his day, meant the enjoyment of private property, yet virtually nothing on these subjects had ever entered my formal education, starting with kindergarten.

I started wondering why, if the Constitution protects private property from being "taken for public use without just compensation"—which is exactly what it says—and prohibits the direct taxation of citizens—which it does—then why does Congress allow the IRS to confiscate people's homes and businesses and put them in jail? After all, this is the exact sort of tyranny that caused the colonists to revolt and separate from England.

Jefferson had also written about "...swarms of officers [sent forth] to harass our people and eat out our substance." That sure sounded like the IRS to me! After filling in the gaping holes in my education and understanding for the first time the sacrifices those who secured our freedoms had endured, I decided to dedicate the rest of my life to the Cause of American liberty. Indeed, other than my family, nothing I have ever involved myself in has ever come to mean so much.

In 1991, I wrote to my representative and both Senators, asking how I could file a tax return without waiving my 4th Amendment protected right to be secure in my private papers, or my 5th Amendment right not to be forced to be a witness against myself on signed tax returns. The Constitution had come to mean a great deal to me, and I wasn't about to sweep it under the rug.

They flatly refused to answer and referred me to the IRS, which also refused to answer! It was as if I had tread on forbidden ground. I had asked a few simple questions and was being absolutely stonewalled. That's when I began to smell the proverbial rat. I realized that I may have been like the little boy suggesting that the Emperor in his beautiful robe just might be naked. But was he? Until I knew for certain what to do, I decided to postpone the filing of further tax returns.

Meanwhile, I joined the Save-A-Patriot Fellowship, the largest tax education organization in the country and began studying the tax laws and regulations, including various standing Supreme Court decisions.

I opened my mailbox one day in 1994 to discover a "Notice of Deficiency" from the IRS, alleging that I suddenly owed them nearly a quarter of a million dollars in income taxes for the years 1992 and 1993! That was pretty amazing considering that I had never paid more than one-tenth that amount in any given year in my life.

I made a request for my records under The Privacy Act and saw to my utter amazement that the IRS had actually filed returns for me! Unbelievably, they had taken blank 1992 and 1993 1040's and hand-written my name, address and Social Security Number at the top, but left both sides of the return totally blank with no dollar amounts entered. Plus, there was no signature!

The IRS Employee Manual calls this a "dummy return with a zero amount", yet their computer had reported me as having filed! The only problem with this racket was that I was running a small business cooperative at the time and 90% of what I had passed through my checking account on my associates' behalf wasn't even my money!

I also noticed that the IRS had placed a "TC-148" transaction code in my Individual Master File, or "IMF", which is the computer record maintained on each taxpayer. I then did a Freedom of Information Act request for the Document 6209 decoding manual that IRS service center employees use, and discovered that "TC148" identified me as an alleged "tax protester".

Why? Because I had had the audacity to ask the unaskable. I had questioned the nakedness of the Emperor! I later learned that every American who openly questions the IRS gets labeled this same way. I also saw on my IMF further evidence of the most blatant computer fraud. Using their Document 6209 decoding manual, I saw that the IRS had me listed under Transaction Code 530 as a seller of foreign insurance policies, an excise taxable business activity I had never even been involved in.

This was unbelievable! But could it have been due to simple computer error? I started pulling IMF's for all my friends and saw that these same types of phony Business Master File activity codes were on all of their Individual Master Files as well, except that most of them were listed as manufacturers of bus and truck chassis, or of pistols and revolvers. As incredible as this sounds, I learned that the IRS is forced to do this on every citizen's file nationwide or it couldn't tax anyone.

Why? Because their computer is programmed according to the law exactly as it is actually written. Since the law does not tax citizens who have no foreign sources of income, the IRS just makes it up! Trust me when I tell you that you've got to do your own free Privacy Act Request and see this for yourself. Seeing is believing and, trust me, you'll be stunned. On the next page is a sample of the form letter I used to obtain my AMDIS computer records from the IRS.

This is nothing short of computer fraud on a scale that would cause a nationwide riot were the truth to be known by all Americans. The shocking realization I came to was that not only is the IRS faking due process assessment procedures, they are totally ignoring what Congress has written and are simply following their own agenda, just to "get the money". It is as if the written Law does not even exist.

So am I a "tax protester"? No, emphatically I am not. What is there to protest when the law does not tax the domestic source income of citizens. By Law, we're all income tax free! Who would want to change that?

Let me give you some more food for thought. Everyone knows that there can be no crime without a victim. But when an American is sent to jail for not filing a tax return, who has been victimized? The government? How can this be when the government can simply print all the money it needs to pay its bills? Did you ever stop to think about that? Since this is true, why does the IRS bother to tax anyone?

In 1982, the Grace Commission reported to President Ronald Reagan that not one nickel of your taxpayer dollars actually goes to pay for the services you expect from government! Did you know that? So where do your tax dollars go? Would you like to see that report for yourself? I show it in my seminars. It's a real eye-opener, which is why you'll never see it on TV.

Here's another shocker for you. In 1993, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue admitted in a public speech that 1 out of 5 Americans had stopped filing tax returns. That's an epidemic of at least 20 million nonfilers by the IRS' own admission! That was seven years ago and a whole lot more Americans have stopped filing since. Why isn't this being covered on "20/20" or "60 Minutes"?

Here's another wake-up call. Many American workers no longer sign a W-4. Instead, they've submitted the proper paperwork under the tax regulations to take home 100% of their paychecks. You can imagine the affect this has had on their standard of living. Why isn't this front page news in The Wall Street Journal? Are you starting to think twice about the so-called "watchdog" media?

Here's another big eye-opener. The Social Security Administration readily admits that no American is required to have a Social Security Number in order to live and work in the United States. Just write and ask them. Now, considering this fact in light of what the Bible has to say on the subject, why does anyone use a government number or get one for their children? Can a truly free person ever be serially numbered?

Are these questions starting to trouble you? Did you know that legions of Americans have already quit Social Security—quietly and 100% legally—and started saving for their own retirement, not yours and everyone else's? What will happen to your retirement check if this groundswell continues? Are you starting to feel like you're not being let in on a big secret?

Here's another good question. Why, in spite of recent legislation supposedly intended to protect taxpayers does Congress still allow the IRS to place levies on private property without a court order as required by law, with performance bonuses paid to those agents who collect the most? The Bible commands "Thou shalt not steal", but doesn't that apply to government workers, too? Or are IRS agents above the law?

Well, perhaps you're starting to get the message that these are not questions for the weak-hearted. The truth is that, when you peel back the IRS curtain for a glimpse of the fearsome Wizard, you may just find a little man in his shorts pulling the strings to your wallet. I think you'll come to discover as millions already have that your tax chains just might be imaginary.

The truth is that the average American is sitting in a mental jail cell with the door wide open. Unfortunately, due to fear of government, many people are afraid to examine these subjects on their own, which is why I'm so often invited to speak on talk radio shows and in front of groups and organizations. To schedule me to speak to your, just contact our office at the contact information at the top of this Free Report.

Seminar attendees are shown not just the documented facts, but how to research and confirm the answers for themselves, leaving no doubt whatsoever in the mind of any honest person. Attendees also have the opportunity to acquire educational materials at special discounts, including "Losing Your Illusions", which has already become an underground bestseller, and my two-hour introductory video, "The Truth Behind The Income Tax", which reveals the real reason why we even have an income tax when the government can simply print all the money it needs.

In closing, let me summarize by suggesting that certain people in government appear to have taken advantage of our trust in them. The only solution is public exposure, which is why I've made it my personal mission to spread the truth about the IRS far and wide, and to help those Americans who are under attack by this rogue agency. Remember, you can still be free if you want to be! But change will only come through education, including a proper understanding of the rights and principles that founded our great republic. I hope you will join me in this challenge. Thank you for your interest and your patriotism. I'm Gordon Phillips, and I look forward to joining you in the Cause of American Liberty.
