

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

*"A man or woman cannot cling to anything
unless she or he believes in it;
belief always precedes action,
therefore a person's deeds and life
are the fruits of their belief."*

- paraphrased from Above Life's Journal

